LITERARY ART'S AND CULTURAL FORUM

Date - 24 September 2024

Room no.- 45

The inauguration ceremony of the various committees, including the National Service Scheme (NSS), Literary, ART'S and Cultural Forum (LACF), Career Counseling and Placement Cell (CCPC), and Women Development Cell (WDC), was held at the Institute of Science, Nagpur. This highly anticipated event was graced by the presence of Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) from the Criminal Investigation Department (CID), Miss Shalini Sharma, who attended as the chief guest.

Session 1

The event commenced with a warm welcome by the dignitaries of the institute. The gathering included faculty members, committee members, students, and several notable guests. After the traditional lighting of the lamp, Miss Kanishka Ganvir introduced all committees and provided a brief overview of their roles, objectives, and the importance of these committees in fostering a holistic educational experience for students.

ACP Miss Shalini Sharma delivered an inspiring speech, emphasizing the importance of discipline, leadership, and community service. She encouraged students to actively participate in committee activities, as these are essential for character building and societal contribution. Miss Sharma also highlighted the role of women in leadership and motivated the female students to take up responsibilities that would help them grow personally and professionally.

Her address also covered the significance of career counseling and how it prepares students for future challenges in a competitive world.

Session 2

IDEA TO IMPACT marathon series, an event designed to guide participants in transforming their innovative ideas into actionable projects while exploring entrepreneurship as a viable career path. The event featured a range of speakers and mentors from various fields, providing invaluable insights into the world of business development, technology, and entrepreneurship.

The event was spearheaded by Amol Tijare, a key figure in business development at the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Nagpur and a representative of the Foundation of Entrepreneurship Development.

Dr. C.S. Shantanu Jog, a mentor from InFed, provided a deep dive into the critical aspects of entrepreneurship. He focused on the mindset required to succeed as an entrepreneur, emphasizing the importance of perseverance, continuous learning, and adaptability in a fast evolving business landscape.

Atharva Badkas, who oversees technology and research at InFed highlighted the importance of technology in today's entrepreneurial ventures. He shared his insights on how cutting-edge technologies can be leveraged to scale ideas, offering participants a better understanding of integrating research and technological solutions into business models.

Abhyant Sahu, Co-Founder of Vahaflow, discussed his journey as an entrepreneur. He shared real-world experiences of co-founding and running a successful business, focusing on the challenges faced by early-stage startups and how to navigate through them effectively.

2:30 – Self defence

By Vijay Ghichare - President Vidarbha Karate Association, Nagpur

A Self-Defense Workshop held at Institute of Science Nagpur, in collaboration with the Vidarbha Karate Association, Nagpur. The workshop was aimed at equipping students, especially women, with essential self-defense techniques to boost their confidence and ensure personal safety.

The event began with an introduction by the principal of the institute, who highlighted the importance of self-defense skills in today's society. The Vidarbha Karate Association team, led by experienced instructors, conducted the workshop. Their expertise in martial arts and self-defense was evident through the well-structured training session.

The participants were taught practical self-defense techniques, including how to counter common physical threats, escape from grabs, and defend themselves in difficult situations. Special emphasis was placed on using quick reflexes and making use of everyday objects for defense. The trainers also discussed the psychological aspects of self-defense, focusing on the importance of staying calm and alert in dangerous situations.

The interactive nature of the workshop allowed participants to actively engage with the trainers, ask questions, and practice the moves demonstrated. Many students expressed appreciation for the hands-on approach, with several participants feeling more empowered and prepared to handle real-life situations.
